About the Speaker:

Alexander (Sandy) M Duggie

Sandy is a Registered Landscape Architect, a Fellow of the Hong Kong Institute of Landscape Architects and, since 1995, the Managing Director of URBIS Limited, a Hong Kong based multi-award winning design consultancy established in 1977, and providing services in master-planning, urban design, town planning, landscape design, golf course design and environmental impact analysis. He has lived in Hong Kong and worked for URBIS since 1985, during which time he has contributed to several major territorial and strategic planning studies for the Hong Kong Government and designed a very large range of private and public sector projects from small private gardens to large scale public infrastructure works.

About the Site Tour:

The Old Course of Fanling Golf Course (FGC) was built in 1911 in harmony with villages, topography, precious trees and landscape and has changed little since. As a result of the protection and management effort for 110 years, it now comprises a rare, remnant ecological and heritage landscape — the Grade 3 Halfway House at the Old Course, the Grade 3 Fanling Clubhouse and the extensive lowland secondary woodland habitats, most notably the critically endangered over 200-year-old Chinese Swamp Cypress. Moreover, the Old Course is also where ancient graves are located, which can be dated back to the Ming and Qing Dynasty. In 2020, it was awarded Audubon Golf Sanctuary status as one of the world's environmentally-friendly golf courses. In the site tour, we will walk through these most important man-made and natural heritage in the FGC.
